

DATA PRIVACY NOTICE – GROUP REPORTING CHANNELS

You can report practices or conducts that are, in good faith, considered – even potentially, as inappropriate or inconsistent with the law, the Code of Conduct or the Group Rules or other internal policies.

Assicurazioni Generali S.p.A. or its Group companies will evaluate the information you provide, and may conduct an investigation and/or take corrective actions based on the provided information.

You should only submit the information that is necessary to undertake an investigation of the concerns raised, for example you should not submit information about an individual's private life or sensitive data (including details of their health or sex life) unless it is strictly required and directly relates to the concern. You should avoid submitting information about individuals that are not connected to the concern raised.

The information may only be reviewed and used by individuals who need to access the data to fulfill their job duties or to respect local law; this may include compliance, audit, human resources, legal or security staff within Assicurazioni Generali S.p.A. or its Group companies.

The information, including the personal data you provide, may be processed in your country or abroad for the above mentioned purposes, by Assicurazioni Generali S.p.A., its group companies and/or professional advisors.

Please note that individuals you identify may be informed that a report has been made and will have the right to respond to or correct information you reported. All reasonable steps will be taken in order to protect your identity.

Assicurazioni Generali S.p.A. and its Group companies will take adequate technical, organizational, and legal steps to secure the information you provide.

Any information you submit that is not needed for the investigations will be deleted or archived, as permitted by local law. In addition, once we have completed any investigation, the information will only be retained as long as necessary and in accordance with local law.

If you have any questions or wish to request a copy of any report you have submitted, to correct any information you have provided, or to erase or destroy inaccurate data, please contact the Group Compliance Officer at concerns.co@generali.com or by post at Piazza Cordusio 2, 20123 Milano, Italy.